

Redeployment support for employees

We're focused on getting people into work, getting people get the skills they need to do the work, and helping them stay employed. We can provide support and advice to keep you working.

Redeployment Support Service

If you are worried about redundancy or losing your job, talk to our Early Response Team before you make any decisions. We can help you with things like:

- One-to-one consultations: assessing your skills so we can match people with other jobs or upskilling opportunities
- Redeployment seminars: providing information about support available to help people transition into a new role

Financial support – check what you might get

If you can't work at the moment, have lost your job, or are working fewer hours, you may be able to get financial help from us.

This guide helps you find out how Work and Income can help you and your family.

We'll ask you some questions. You may want to have a friend or family member to help you. It will take around 5 minutes.

At the end, we'll tell you the payments we think you might be able to get.

Help with essential costs, even if you're working

If you're struggling to pay your rent or bills, you might be able to get some help, even if you're still working, or on a low income

We could help with:

- food
- accommodation (rent, mortgage, board)
- power, gas and water bills or heating
- medical and dental costs
- car repairs.

Even if you don't think you qualify, contact us to talk about your situation.
